February 22, 2007

Choose the story that you appreciate or relate to the most.

TITLE:

Why did you choose that story?

How do you as an individual connect with the person or story?

Re-write your favorite phrase or sentence in the story. What do you think it means? Why did it touch you?

How do the stories we read relate to Al Weiner’s message when he met with us yesterday?

Think about Alter Weiner's experience with the German woman who gave him a sandwich. He called her "my heroine until the end"

Write a brief story about a person that you admire. What makes s/he special to you? What did they do or say to make them a 'hero' or heroine?
